PERSONAL AND SOCIETY.

[All society and personal notes for the Sunday issue of the Journal, to secure publication, must be in the hands of the city editor by Saturday

The coming encampment is claiming the attention of the women of all ages as well as the men who are interested in military tactics, for the former are to have a part in the exercises. The committee appointed for this special department has chosen some of the handsomest young women in the city to act as sponsors for the different com-panies which will be here to take part in the contests, and these sponsors invite other young women to assist them. The party so arranged will have married women to act as chaperons. A sponsor's chief duties are to make herself attractive as possible with dainty gown and furbelows and then do all in her power to make the social part of her company's visit agree-

The cool spring and early June have caused the desire to get away from town for a season to be postponed. The certainty that summer will bring an almost intolerable heat, however, has made the wise ones who are not only wise, but are also able, to set about preparations for leaving home for a time. The exodus to Europe seems larger than it has ever been. A few go for a few weeks, a majority for three months. The club tourist parties generally remain three months from home. Indianapolis, probably, will have more citizens across the sea from now till January than one can realize. But Indiana resorts attract those who feel inclined to remain nearer home, and a favorite outing will be camping and driving to Martinsville or Spencer or some near point. Strange as it may seem to peo-ple from Chicago. Cincinnati or St. Louis, who have such places, Indianapolis has no country place where one can drive with a small party and have a supper on the spur of the moment. When a drive is taken the supper has to be ordered before the party reaches its destination.
